These Terms of Service ("Terms of Services") shall apply, unless otherwise agreed in writing by both parties. In case of discrepancy between the parties on agreed conditions, the Terms of Services shall apply.

1. FEE FOR SERVICE CONTRACT

1.1. The Contractor shall perform the services described in an agreed Project Information Form (as defined below) ("Services") on the terms set forth in the Terms of Services.

1.2. Together with the agreed Terms of Services any agreed Project Information Form (as defined below) shall constitute a legally binding agreement (the "Agreement") between the parties to the exclusion of any other terms or conditions.

2. CUSTOMER SAMPLES AND INFORMATION

2.1. To order Services from the Contractor, the Customer shall issue a filled-out Project Information Form ((hereinafter referred to as "PIF"), specifying all relevant information about the ordered Services, to the Contractor, and detailing all requested information enabling Contractor to perform ordered Services. The Customer shall supply the Contractor with any and all compounds, samples and materials specified in the PIF (hereinafter referred to as "Samples") in the quantities and quality as specified in the relevant PIF. The inclusion of additional Samples shall be agreed upon between the parties in writing as an amendment to the specific PIF or the execution of an additional PIF.

2.2. The Customer is responsible for the delivery of samples to the Contractor in such a manner as to maintain sample integrity, and in accordance with any relevant shipping and handling regulations or instructions. The Customer will not provide any person-identifiable data to identify samples. By ordering, the Customer confirms that it possesses or has obtained or acquired all the required ethical permissions and regulatory approval(s) for the proposed Services and the Contractor will have no liability if these permissions and approvals have not been properly granted. The Customer will assure and warrant to the Contractor that the sample is free of any substance, virus, bacteria etc. harmful to personnel. If applicable, the Customer will provide the Contractor with relevant occupational safety information in the possession of the Customer. The Contractor shall make no representations or warranties with respect to the Samples in connection with the performance of the Services. The Customer agrees to indemnify the Contractor from all actions and liabilities resulted from the Contractor's testing of any Samples or the use of any data or Results (as defined below) produced by the Contractor's testing Services provided; however, the Customer shall not indemnify the Contractor in the event the Contractor was negligent in providing the testing Services. The Customer will not use data provided by the Contractor for commercial use or transfer data provided by the Contractor to third party for profit.

2.3. The Contractor acknowledges that the Samples and any and all amounts extracted or derived from the Samples or otherwise related hereto as well as any and all information, documents, data, and know-how of any kind, whether orally, in writing or in any other form, provided or disclosed by the Customer or a third party on behalf of the Customer to the Contractor (hereinafter referred to as "Customer Information"), is and shall remain the exclusive property of the Customer, and that nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as granting to the Contractor, by implication or otherwise, any license or proprietary right with respect to such Customer Information.

2.4. The Contractor agrees not to use the Customer Information for any other purpose than the performance of the Services. The Contractor agrees not to analyse, chemically modify, use, reverse engineer or determine the structure of any Sample unless it is necessary to carry out the Services or it has been agreed upon explicitly in the applicable PIF. The Contractor shall not use Customer Information to make other samples than those Samples specified in the PIF.

2.5. The Contractor shall not use, or authorize the use of, the Samples in humans for any purpose under any circumstances.

3. SERVICES

3.1. The Contractor shall perform the Services professionally in compliance with existing Contractor quality standards and any and all specifications and quality standards agreed in the PIF. The Customer acknowledges that the Services are experimental in nature and that no warranties are made by the Contractor whether implied or otherwise as to the Results (as defined below) of the Services performed.

3.2. The Services shall be provided to the Customer in accordance with the agreed timeline(s) and in the form agreed upon in the PIF. In case of a delay or expectations of a delay, the Contractor shall promptly inform the Customer and shall state the reasons for the delay, what actions the Contractor has initiated in order to minimize, overcome, or reduce the delay and when delivery may be expected. The Customer has no remedies for and is obligated to accept delays that are wholly or partially a result of the Customer's actions or omissions, e.g. request(s) for changes in the Services or insufficient information provided in the PIF. If an extension of a deadline has not been approved by the Customer or if the Contractor is unable to deliver the Services within an approved extension of a deadline, the Customer shall be entitled to terminate all remaining parts of the Services under the specific PIF with immediate effect. A delay of less than five (5) working days is not considered a breach of agreed timelines.

3.3. The Contractor shall appoint a study director ("Study Director") or other responsible person who will be responsible for the performance of the Services. The Study Director shall co-ordinate the performance of the Services with the Customer contact person designated in the PIF or any other person designated by the Customer in writing, which (person) shall have responsibility over all operational matters related to the Services on behalf of the Customer, including communication with the Contractor.

3.4. The Contractor shall use commercially reasonable efforts to notify the Customer of any defects in or damage to the Samples of which the Contractor becomes aware that may affect the quality or accuracy of the resulting data. In the event the Contractor causes damage to a Sample, the Contractor shall notify the Customer promptly and allow the Customer to send another Sample for a repeat of the services, free of charge, and this shall be the Customer's sole remedy in such case.

3.5. The Contractor may agree, as a courtesy, to store Samples for the Customer for a specified period of time (no more than 6 weeks) after the delivery of Services under this Agreement, if the Customer indicates that it may request further services from the Contractor relating to such Samples. The Contractor shall not charge the Customer for such storage services, and in exchange, the Customer shall not hold the Contractor liable for any damage or theft of Samples while stored in the Contractor's facilities.

4. DATA AND RESULTS

4.1. Any and all data (the "Results") generated during or resulting directly from the Services performed by the Contractor shall be the exclusive property of the Customer. The Contractor will keep all information confidential and will not exploit data for any use other than general statistic purposes and troubleshooting.

4.2. Any and all discoveries, inventions, ideas, know-how, developments, formulas, techniques, data and any other results derived or generated by the Customer from the Results shall be the exclusive property of the Customer. However, nothing in this Agreement shall constitute a grant of license to the Customer to commercially exploit the Contractor's technologies for any purpose whatsoever.

4.3. The Customer acknowledges that the Contractor possesses certain expertise, know-how, techniques, processes and other intellectual property rights, which have been independently developed by the Contractor, and which relate to the Contractor's business operations in general and not to Confidential Information (as defined below) (hereinafter the "Contractor Property"). The Contractor Property is and remains the exclusive property of the Contractor and the Contractor shall not be restricted in using the Contractor Property as long as it does not interfere with or includes Confidential Information.

4.4. The Contractor shall not be entitled to publish any Results, unless otherwise agreed upon in the PIF.

4.5. The Customer must review the Results provided upon receipt and give written notice if the Results are not accepted without undue delay and in any event within sixty (60) calendar days from delivery; otherwise the data shall be deemed to be accepted by the Customer.

The Contractor shall advise all such persons who receive or are to receive Confidential Information that such information is confidential and may only be used for the Service and shall require their compliance with the terms of this Agreement. The Contractor shall maintain at least the same standard of custody of Confidential Information as the Contractor keeps custody of the Contractor's own confidential information, but no less than a standard of care that is reasonable under the circumstances to maintain secrecy and control disclosure. The Contractor shall immediately notify the Customer if the Contractor becomes aware of any suspected or actual unauthorized use, copying or disclosure of Confidential Information.

5.4. The confidentiality and non-use obligation shall not apply to Confidential Information that:

5.5. If it can be documented that Confidential Information was disclosed to the Contractor prior to the Effective Date (as defined below) of this Agreement or prior to entering into a PIF under the Agreement in reasonable anticipation of the parties entering into this Agreement or a PIF hereunder, such Confidential Information shall be treated as confidential and be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

5.6. The obligations of confidentiality and non-use set forth herein shall remain in effect for a period of five (5) years from the last date on which Confidential Information was disclosed to the Contractor.

5.7. Neither party may use the other's name, or the name of any employee or agent, in any advertising or sales promotional material without the prior written consent of the other party.

In the absence of timely payment, the Contractor may cease to perform any remaining Services and withhold Results until payment for outstanding invoices has been settled by the Customer.

8. LIABILITY

8.1 During the normal course of performing the Service, some experiments may fail to produce usable data or Results, or Samples may accidentally be lost or damaged. The Contractor assumes no liability for the loss of the Customer samples. Results will vary depending on, inter alia, the quality of the Customers sample(s) and the Contractor provides no warranty as to the quality of any data generated and shall not be held liable for any damage or cost incurred from the use of such data.

8.2. The maximum amount of damages payable by Contractor in respect of all liability, including liability arising from negligence, under or in connection with the Agreement shall not exceed the Project price.

9. TERMINATION

The right of termination shall not be prejudicial to any other legal remedy that a party might have against the other party with respect to such breach.

9.3. In the event of either party hereto becoming insolvent, being declared bankrupt or ceasing business, the other party may terminate this Agreement with immediate effect.

9.4. Upon expiration or termination of this Agreement, the Contractor shall return any and all Confidential Information and transfer any and all Results whether completed or not as well as all copies and reproductions hereof. The provisions of this clause do not apply to copies of electronically exchanged Confidential Information made as a matter of routine information technology backup and Confidential Information or copies thereof which must be stored by the Contractor according to applicable law or documented internal compliance guidelines, provided that such Confidential Information or copies thereof will then be subject to an indefinite confidentiality obligation according to the terms and conditions set forth herein.

9.5. Unless terminated as a result of the Contractor's breach of an Agreement, the Contractor is entitled to a proportional remuneration from the Customer in consideration for the Services performed by the Contractor until the time of termination, regardless of whether such Services are of any value to the Customer.

10. FORCE MAJEURE
